The wars are not helping the environment at all.

10:39:45 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

Kinderenergy here. We are about youth and children. We are accredited

10:39:59 From Nouhan Traor to Everyone:

Thank You a lot for this knowledge sharing.

10:40:16 From Devis HABONIMANA to Everyone:

Thank you ðŸ’•

10:40:17 From Mark Haver to Everyone:

There is a youth task force and working group for S+50 as well that was organized by the UNEP Major Group for Youth and Children

10:40:45 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

We need to listen to children and youth who are doing things that help environment. Standing and protesting does not help environment enough.

10:41:21 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

Mark, how can we contact you?

10:41:48 From Mark Haver to Everyone:

Please reach out to me: mark@soalliance.org

10:41:56 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

Thank you

10:42:15 From Nayah Tayem to Everyone:

Thanks for Answering my question sir.

Nayah

10:42:38 From Mark Haver to Everyone:

Additionally, I would add that it's of critical importance not just for youth to be listened to, but to be included as equitable stakeholders in decision-making environments, processes, and structures

10:42:42 From Leida Rijnhout, SF to Hosts and panelists:

Charles: you did not had your camera on :-)

10:43:18 From Keshab Chandra Maharana to Everyone:

Women & Child Welfare Society regular programme continue Energy & Petroleum Conservation activities till now. Any one can contact us to wcwsodisha1994@gmail.com

10:43:38 From Quazi Baby to Everyone:

Good day. I am Quazi Baby from Bangladesh.

10:44:31 From Judith Salome Asaala to Everyone:

any environmental org in kenya that needs a youth volunteer feel free to reach out. I have been unable to get intouch with environmental orgs/ youth groups etc.

judithsalome22@gmail.com.

10:44:42 From Oli Henman to Everyone:

International trade systems have not included sufficient focus on environmental impact of increased consumption- trade agreements focus on maximising economic returns, without enough recognition of social and environmental impacts. We must stop fossil fuel subsidies and move support to a clean, green future!

10:44:44 From Richard Sam to Hosts and panelists:

Hi to everyone, I'm Richard N. Sam from Liberia, west Africa. I'm glad to be part of this webinar

10:45:45 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

Sorry to disagree but Nations are not the problem. The problems are due to people within a country who make bad decisions affecting everyone, not all the people within that country.

10:48:35 From christopher Dapaah to Everyone:

please, share presentation
chrisdapaah@gmail.com

10:48:43 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:

Indeed @Elizabeth. The problem is about behavior, values

10:48:46 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

@mark, Kinderenergy believes both children and youth should be seen as capable stakeholders especially in areas of disaster risk reduction, sequester CO2, cleaning oceans, coral regions etc. But they are rarely included.

10:49:54 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

Will @Mark & @Maria be going to Sweden?

10:50:08 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:

yes

10:50:29 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

great.

10:50:58 From Ir Dr Ip Ngai Bong to Everyone:

Thanks

10:51:02 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

Maria, what group are you with?

10:51:32 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:

I am at the University of Massachusetts Boston. And lead this work -

<https://www.environmentalgovernance.org/>

10:52:05 From christopher Dapaah to Everyone:

At what front can CSOs be part of this conference in Sweden ?

10:52:34 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:

@ Elizabeth - I am a scholar of UNEP and will be speaking at the next dialogue here - April 25 :)

10:53:21 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:

My piece about UNEP in Nature might be of interest -

<https://www.nature.com/articles/d41586-021-00393-5> - and my book on UNEP -

<https://www.environmentalgovernance.org/unep-50>

10:54:47 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

Sendai is great! Children are mentioned but we have not complied with it, regarding children participation. Such a pity

10:56:45 From Keshab Chandra Maharana to Everyone:

National Environment Awareness Programme grant in aid scheme stopped by Govt. of India. Now people not aware about Environmental issues, Climate Change problems. We request to Organizer if possible kindly support. Awaiting your reply by email

10:58:23 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

Thank you Maria. Very interesting book. Congratulations.

10:58:47 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

This is what we are doing. We help kids get involved. <https://foodsustainability-cms.eiu.com/international-youth-day-young-people-delivering-food-sustainability/>

10:58:50 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:
Thank you! Where are you based?

10:59:07 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:
California

10:59:22 From Mark Haver to Everyone:
I hope I can attend in Sweden, but I need to talk to organizations who are accredited as our org is still in the process of being accredited. Hope to go though ðŸ™,

11:00:14 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:
@Maria, I have signed up to 4/25 talk also. :)

11:01:09 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:
@Elizabeth - Excellent! Am very interested in your index! We have created the Environmental Conventions Index

11:01:10 From Devis HABONIMANA to Everyone:
Thank you ðŸ• Maria

11:01:31 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:
Kinderenergy is focused on helping rural children gain food security at school and, all things related to oceans

11:02:18 From Keshab Chandra Maharana to Everyone:
UNEP accredited our Women & Child Welfare Society

11:02:34 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:
Would be glad to connect - my email is Maria.ivanova@umb.edu

11:02:59 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:
Also, we hold the UNEP@50 Dialogue series -
<https://www.environmentalgovernance.org/unepdialogue>

11:03:30 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:
@Maria, I am not aware of the Environmental Conventions Index. Please connect via elisabethanne@kinderenergy.org

11:05:40 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:
Next dialogue is with Ambassador Franz Perrez of Switzerland and former US negotiator Rebecca Webber Gaudiosi on UNEP@50: Insights from Member States I. It will take place April 26, 2022, from 5pm CET - 6pm CET (11am EDT - 12pm EDT). If you are interested, please send your email to jiedine.phanbuh001@umb.edu and she will send you the invitation and registration.

11:05:42 From Djatougbe Aziaka to Everyone:
Thanks great presentation

11:06:20 From Devis HABONIMANA to Everyone:
Thanks for great presentation

11:07:00 From Bryan Lepish to Everyone:
thank you so much @maria. I will get in touch with you shortly

11:08:36 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:
UN says that Youth are anyone between 18-30 years of age

11:08:51 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:
Children are between 0-17 years of age

11:09:14 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:
Those criteria should be adjusted because 30 year old is an adult.

11:09:58 From Zanele Matyolo to Everyone:

I am muted pls assist

11:10:14 From Keshab Chandra Maharana to Everyone:

Very usefull this

11:10:49 From Oli Henman to Everyone:

Good points from Leida- there seems to be confusion on the way that Stockholm+50 will engage with stakeholder groups. It will be helpful if you can explain opportunities to shape the main sessions and statements for all UNEP and ECOSOC accredited orgs...

11:10:52 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

Major Group of Children & Youth is really about Youth.

11:11:29 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

We are the only group within environment highlighting children.

11:11:33 From Mark Haver to Everyone:

Thanks for answering my question!

11:14:26 From Harouna ABARCHI to Everyone:

Bonjour tous, Pourquoi il n'y a pas la traduction en franÃ§ais?

11:14:27 From Lori Johnston to Everyone:

'Indigenous people'--The plurality of individuals from many different Indigenous Peoples, may be included but Peoples who are Indigenous are systematically excluded because UNEP is dominated by States and their corporations working to liquidate Peoples who are Indigenous into a plurality of individual survivors of many Indigenous Peoples. The UN, through UNEP's environmental governance division helps to liquidate Indigenous Peoples. This is a UN structural problem that Stockholm+50 might refer to higher levels if Indigenous Peoples were allowed to participate in Stockholm+50.

11:14:50 From Lylia Coelho Ferreira to Everyone:

Thank you for presentation. As NGO we need to be together and work at the same line to go already and try to solve challenges in our environnement .

11:15:48 From Keshab Chandra Maharana to Everyone:

Thanks LC

11:17:17 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:

On plastics - our team at the Center for Governance and Sustainability at UMass Boston was engaged during UNEA. The team is online here now and glad to connect with everyone! <https://bit.ly/3EL1Jm1>

11:20:21 From Stephen Stec to Everyone:

@Elizabth - By "nations" I don't mean the ethnos, I mean the nation-state system. I also said that nations are the solution.

11:20:33 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:

Our team studies and measures the level of implementation of MEAs. See this open source article describing the Environmental Conventions Index at <https://www.mdpi.com/2071-1050/12/17/7098>

11:22:47 From Maria Ivanova to Everyone:

Important point - transform the environmental discussion from a technical to a political discussion! That will require that UNEP as the leading environmental institution take political stance

11:26:03 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

@Stephen, thank you for that clarification. I understand that nations need to get together to make an international effort to solve problems. Good discussion.

11:26:35 From Mohammad Kamil Khan to Everyone:
Greetings from India

11:27:56 From Keshab Chandra Maharana to Everyone:
Are you support to NGOS?

11:30:13 From Mohammad Kamil Khan to Everyone:
We are NGO named International Anti Terrorism Movement carrying out education and awareness campaign against global terrorism

11:30:37 From Severin SINDIZERA-IPGFforSD (International Indigenous Platform) to Everyone:

Is it possible to share with us the presentations

11:31:26 From Mohammad Kamil Khan to Everyone:
Our E - mail ID intlstm.mail@gmail.com

11:31:40 From Lori Johnston to Everyone:

Mechanisms, procedures, protocols, and institutions for accountability at all levels should be promoted for good environmental governance. These tools support access to justice that can remedy environmental wrongs.

11:32:16 From Mohammad Kamil Khan to Everyone:
certainly yes

11:32:16 From Djatougbe Aziaka to Everyone:
Thank you Leida.

11:32:39 From Keshab Chandra Maharana to Everyone:

11:42:05 From Severin SINDIZERA-IPGFforSD (International Indigenous Platform) to Everyone:

Thanks for response

11:43:16 From Nienke Blauw to Hosts and panelists:

A big thank you to all the speakers/ panellists! I have been an advocate in SRHR in the past and will start studying Law in the fall with an aim to specialise in Environmental Law and support the great work done by Roger Cox and other lawyers. This webinar was a way for me to already start increasing my knowledge. If you have any suggestions with regards to focussing my efforts/ specific books or papers to read or other sessions to attend, please let me know: nienke.blauw@gmail.com

11:43:40 From Lori Johnston to Everyone:

Maybe CSOs can evaluate if or how Indigenous Peoples can participate in Stockhom+50 and provide documentation of their assessments.

11:43:51 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

@Lori, I understand that indigenous groups are culturally unique and a group that needs to be protected due to its uniqueness. I am part of an indigenous group from Mexico but the problem is that within this forum we should try to see ourselves as all one people working hard to solve problems of our one Earth.

11:44:10 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

We need to find common ground for everyone and try not concentrate on particularities of groups. We have groups based on age but at the end the negative affects of climate change affect everyone similarly regardless of particular group characteristics.

Whatever happens to indigenous groups environmentally speaking is also happening to the larger group also. I would be great to see each particular group as part of the larger group, affected differently by place and climate. If we add every specific group individually then we are falling into the political trap and we get distracted from the bigger problems Earth is facing. The problem of liquidating indigenous people is not an environmental issue but a historical/ political problem. At least this is how I see it.

11:46:08 From Severin SINDIZERA-IPGFforSD (International Indigenous Platform) to Everyone:

Email is : ipgfforsd.coordination@gmail.com

11:47:08 From Lori Johnston to Everyone:

CSOs should provide documentation for their beliefs about Peoples who are Indigenous and their ability to participate in Stockhom+50 or UNEP in the context of the UDHR as understood by the Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. Such documentation assessing the ability of Indigenous Peoples to effectively participate in UNEP could inform the Stockholm+50 meeting about how to plan for peace and security for the next 50 years.

11:47:28 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

Would love to chat but I have the flu and cannot speak. I would just like to say that children are doing a lot in DRR and Food Security. It would be great to see Stockholm +50 have concrete plans for seeing what they are doing.

11:48:41 From Severin SINDIZERA-IPGFforSD (International Indigenous Platform) to Everyone:

I have also raise our issues in the last Stockhom +50 preparation meeting held in the UN GA

11:48:52 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

Thank you for this wonderful conference. I am connected all this week so perhaps another day I can speak.

11:49:25 From Mark Haver to Everyone:

Thanks again for answering my questions!

11:50:03 From Ir Dr Ip Ngai Bong to Everyone:

Thanks

11:50:09 From Severin SINDIZERA-IPGFforSD (International Indigenous Platform) to Everyone:

Thanks a lots, Elisabeth

11:50:55 From Lori Johnston to Everyone:

Peoples described in the UN Charter have collective human rights described in the Charter. The UDHR describes individual rights and has been applied to many Peoples as collective rights. Peoples who are Indigenous have internationally recognized rights to territories and life sources. UNEP undermines Indigenous Peoples' rights to manage human interaction with their territories and life sources, thus increasing land degradation to the detriment of all Peoples, nations, States, Business, and CSOs.

11:51:00 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

@Severin :)

11:52:12 From Turyakira John Robert to Hosts and panelists:

I am happy to be here, Robert Turyakira, Deputy Executive Director of the Environment Shield -Uganda (East Africa) +256783001913 jrturyakira@gmail.com

11:52:40 From Turyakira John Robert to Everyone:

I am happy to be here, Robert Turyakira, Deputy Executive Director of the Environment Shield -Uganda (East Africa) +256783001913 jrturyakira@gmail.com

11:53:14 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

@Lori, do you have children within your indigenous group? Perhaps we can do something together?

11:54:11 From Lori Johnston to Everyone:

CSOs concerned about land or water degradation would have less work to do if their waters and lands benefitted from Indigenous Peoples' management.

11:54:44 From Justine Mwanje to Everyone:

Participating in this webinar is a privilege and honor. Many thanks.

11:55:17 From Lori Johnston to Everyone:

Mechanisms, procedures, protocols, and institutions for accountability at all levels should be promoted for good environmental governance. These tools support access to justice that can remedy environmental wrongs.

11:55:33 From Bryan Lepish to Hosts and panelists:

thank you so much for answering my question

11:57:31 From Elisabeth Anne Delgado to Everyone:

This is an environment-political question regarding China. Will China be called out regarding the extent of their CO2 emissions ??

11:57:55 From Lori Johnston to Everyone:

Yes, we have Indigenous children working to protect and gather from our food sources. UNEP's advocacy against Indigenous Peoples in its environmental governance division has further damaged our food sources and the biodiverse species contributing to them. If CSOs concerned about degradation of lands or waters recommended to UNEP the institutionalization of Indigenous Peoples' participation in the environmental governance division in accordance with WCIP outcome document, our children would have less work to do.
