10:16:33 From Richard Sam : Hi, I'm Richard N. Sam from Liberia. I have not gotten the first PPPs and recordings yet.

10:17:05 From Anthony Harvey : Many are doing wonderful work in promoting the right to a health environment but there is a problem that local efforts toward this are in many ways discouraged. E.g., devices and interventions of safe drinking water and clean indoor air must be evaluated in distant locations. This does not reconcile with the SDG 6 & 7 stipulations of affordability. Who among implementers would send low-cost devices to distant locations for evaluation? As a result of this impediment, wonderful alternatives are not encouraged as they should be.

10:21:15 From Idris Baba to Hosts and panelists : Hi I'm Idris Baba , from Nigeria. I have been working on environmental impact assessments within five west African countries. It's exciting to be here

10:47:57 From Zoe Lujic : Thanks Leida

10:48:03 From Cyril Ritchie : Great statement, Daniel. And great to see and hear you once again ! Cyril Ritchie

10:52:19 From Zoe Lujic : Yes, some states in Europe are already debating it like Belgium and Denmark!!

10:52:26 From Zoe Lujic : the law of ecocide that is

10:54:13 From Nayah Tayem : Daniel the Law to peace should be emphasized. Nayah

10:55:55 From Samia Shell to Hosts and panelists : Sending you a hello, Dan! Happy I could watch your presentation, I'll have to hop off now.

10:59:08 From RUGONDERA Yves : Nayah, voulez-vous dire être mise en place, sensibilisée, vulgarisée et publiée?

11:01:14 From James Harrison Onwukwe : Brilliant presentation thus far.

11:01:47 From James Harrison Onwukwe : Bold Statement for our environment

11:02:10 From RUGONDERA Yves : Pas de son de notre part, wsp +257881977 Yves Rugondera du Burundi, alucovisburundi@gmail.com

11:14:04 From Bounthone Chanthavong-Wiese : I'm President of the Alliance for Democracy in Laos. You talk about environment and justice. In Laos (Southeast Asia) the Lao PDR government has built too many dams (more than 100 dams in any country like Laos) with corruption in every level of administration and dictatorial regime with deforestation in this area and land grabbing, consequent Drought and overflow as well as Dam disasters in 2018. My question will you stop Damsprojekt?

11:14:12 From Nayah Tayem : That's really true.

we really need to address the problem of climate change.

we have rain falling now as if we are in the month of July.

farmers are just confused

11:16:07 From Ahmed Mahmoud Mohamed Ahmed to Hosts and panelists : Thank you very much very informative we need more of the sessions

11:18:46 From Nayah Tayem : Addressing the environmental problems.

how then can we solve the land rights of Women and Youth's which is a big challenge in many Countries?

Nayah

11:19:07 From Zoe Lujic : We need to change our RELATIONSHIP with Nature and all living beings

11:19:08 From Ahmed Mahmoud Mohamed Ahmed to Hosts and panelists : Well said Dianne

11:19:55 From Zoe Lujic : Brilliantly said - environmentalising the politics and political processes!!

11:20:02 From Bounthone Chanthavong-Wiese : Contact with me: chanthavong@aol.com

11:26:14 From Aditi Mishal : Thank you for inspiring sessions. Greetings from Dr Aditi Mishal Chief Sustainability Officer from Govardhan Ecovillage. Looking forward to Stockholm+50

11:26:18 From Cyril Ritchie : THANKS, Dianne. You have been a star of Hope for all these 50 years. Cyril Ritchie

11:27:00 From Nayah Tayem : Diane Thanks so much.

11:33:39 From RUGONDERA Yves : Je m'excuse de quelques empechements liés au plan de service et à bientôt. félicitation à tous ceux qui ont exposés, vraiment un événement émouvant et plus attirant du contexte stratégique au changement des mentalités et des pratiques dans nos régions. Espérons de nous rencontrer en physique ou par parrainage d'initiative locale pour plus d'impact.

11:33:55 From Zoe Lujic : Excellent proposal - in line with our Rights of Nature movement, which is exactly what is being said so far by Dr Byers

11:36:04 From Nayah Tayem : You have said it all Dr.

If the rights of everybody was respected.

Peace would have been the watch word And the entire World a better place to live.

11:39:43 From Charles Nouhan to Leida Rijnhout, SF(Direct Message) : Is it your intention to invite any of the attendees to speak?

11:40:08 From Anthony Harvey : Leida and others, is there not a question as to who it is that is 'entitled' to foster development? Who are the stakeholders? Is it not the case that the no. 1 stakeholders are those addressed in SDG 1, No Poverty...?

11:42:05 From Nicholas King : Aldo Leopold put it so simply: "A thing is right when it tends to preserve the integrity, stability and beauty of the biotic community. It is wrong when it tends otherwise."

11:43:11 From Nicholas King : and John Muir: The fight for beauty is "not blind opposition to progress, but opposition to blind progress"

11:44:37 From Nicholas King : and Russell Baker: "Usually terrible things that are done with the excuse that progress requires them are not really progress at all, just terrible things."

11:47:04 From Silvia Ribeiro, ETC Group : I recommend to read this statement, initiated by CIEL and other organizations and signed by over 750 organization throughout the world:

11:47:06 From Silvia Ribeiro, ETC Group : <https://www.realsolutions-not-netzero.org/>

11:47:35 From Silvia Ribeiro, ETC Group : Real Solutions, not "net Zero"

11:52:14 From Bernard Combes : Great discussion and exchanges, might be good to look at and reflect on the 1997 Declaration on the Responsibilities of the Present Generations towards Future Generations

(<https://unesdoc.unesco.org/ark:/48223/pf0000110827.locale=en>), the 2017 Declaration of Ethical Principles in relation to Climate Change

(<https://unesdoc.unesco.org/ark:/48223/pf0000260129.locale=en>) as well as the Earth Charter and its 16 principles (<https://earthcharter.org/read-the-earth-charter/>). Also some insights on Education and Environment

(<https://unesdoc.unesco.org/ark:/48223/pf0000002546?posInSet=33&queryId=eab495da-d9d4-48c7-b13d-1c64f806db5d>) from 50 years ago with some of them still quite relevant today.
